

The United States Air Force Heritage of America Band
Langley Winds

The United States Air Force Heritage of America Band's Langley Winds woodwind quintet will span more than 250 years of musical tradition when they appear at (place) for a free performance (date) at (time). The quintet's repertoire includes a wide variety of chamber works as well as popular and patriotic pieces.

The quintet's versatility stems from their diverse educational backgrounds and professional experiences. They hold degrees from music schools all over the country including Indiana University, University of Michigan, West Virginia University, and the University of North Carolina School of the Arts. Members have performed with the Waco Symphony, West Virginia Symphony Orchestra, Central Ohio Symphony Orchestra, San Francisco Wind Symphony, and the Aspen Music Festival Orchestra.
